Conditions of Sale for Autographs

The property described in this catalogue will be offered at public auction by Robert A. Siegel Auction Galleries, Inc. ("Galleries") on behalf of various consignors and itself or affiliated companies. By placing a bid on any lot, the bidder acknowledges acceptance of and will be bound to these Conditions of Sale.

1. The highest bidder acknowledged by the auctioneer shall be the buyer. The term "final bid" means the last bid acknowledged by the auctioneer, which is normally the highest bid offered. The purchase price payable by the buyer will be the sum of the final bid and a commission of 10% of the final bid ("buyer's premium"), together with any sales tax or use tax which may be due on the sale.

2. The auctioneer has the right to reject any bid, to advance the bidding at his discretion, and, in the event of a dispute between bidders, to determine the successful bidder, to continue the bidding or to reoffer and resell the lot in dispute. The Galleries' record of the final sale shall be conclusive.

3. All bids are per numbered lot in the catalogue unless otherwise announced by the auctioneer at the time of sale. The right is reserved to group two or more lots, to withdraw any lot or lots from the sale, or to act on behalf of the seller. The Galleries will execute bidding instructions on behalf of clients, but will not be responsible for any errors in the execution of such bids.

4. Lot numbers followed by the symbol * are offered subject to one or more of the following conditions: (i) the lot is subject to a minimum final bid ("reserve"), below which it will not be sold, (ii) the Galleries have advanced monies to the seller and have a financial interest in the lot, (iii) the Galleries have guaranteed the seller a minimum sale price, and (iv) the Galleries may have ownership interest in the lot, either in part or whole. The absence of the symbol * means that the lot is offered without reserve.

5. Any lot, the description of which is obviously incorrect, is returnable, but only if the lot is returned within 14 days of receipt. All disputed lots must be returned intact with the original packing material. The following lots may not be returned for any reason: Lots containing ten or more items; lots from buyers who have registered for the pre-sale exhibition or received lots by postal viewing, thereby having had the opportunity to inspect them before the sale; any lot described with "faults" or "defects" may not be returned because of any fault or defect.

6. Successful bidders, unless they have established credit with the Galleries prior to the sale, must make payment in full before the lots will be delivered. Buyers not known to the Galleries must make payment in full within three days from the date of sale. The Galleries retain the right to demand payment at the time the lot is knocked down to the highest bidder, for any reason whatsoever. In the event that any buyer refuses or fails to make payment in cash for any lot at the time it is knocked down to him, the auctioneer reserves the right to reoffer the lot immediately for sale to the highest bidder.

7. If the purchase price has not been paid within the time limit specified above, nor lots taken up within seven days from the date of sale, the lots will be resold by whatever means deemed appropriate by the Galleries, and any loss incurred from resale will be charged to the defaulting buyer. Any account more than thirty days in arrears will be subject to a late payment charge of 1 1/2% per month as long as the account remains in arrears. Any expenses incurred in securing payment from delinquent accounts will be charged to the defaulter.

8. All lots are sold as genuine. Any lot proven to be other than genuine by a competent authority may be returned for a refund of the purchase price and buyer's premium. The Galleries shall have no additional liability under any circumstances.

9. Until paid for in full, all lots remain the property of the Galleries on behalf of the seller.

10. Agents executing bids on behalf of clients will be held responsible for all purchases made on behalf of clients unless otherwise arranged prior to the sale.

11. The buyer assumes all risk for delivery of purchased lots, and agrees to pay for all out-of-pocket costs incurred in shipping.

INTRODUCTION

LOUIS GRUNIN IS PRINCIPALLY a philatelist, having assembled several award-winning collections. However, inspired by his interest in American history, Mr. Grunin “adopted” the collection of autograph free franks and historical Americana begun by his long-time friend, the late Seymour Kaplan. Building on what was already a significant collection, Mr. Grunin filled in gaps and acquired important items to create one of the finest free frank collections ever formed. Now, with fewer and fewer opportunities to expand or upgrade the collection, it will be returned to the market.

Though narrower in scope than the great Edward Stern and Theodore Stevens collections, this group of free franks, autograph letters and documents is a comparable, if not superior, concentration of rarities. Among the examples of free franks by Signers of the Declaration of Independence, we find not just ordinary franked covers, but extraordinary 1776 year dates, associations and seldom-seen franks by Signers such as Lyman Hall and Francis Lightfoot Lee. In addition to simple addressed lettersheets, we have complete autograph letters signed by Benjamin Franklin and Elbridge Gerry, the latter being a remarkable account of the Battle of Bunker Hill.

The depth of this collection is further demonstrated in the section of presidential franks. While most collectors are satisfied to own just one example of each president, Mr. Grunin has attempted to show a frank for every significant office held by each president. Thus, we have not one, but five George Washington free franks (as general, private citizen and president). John Adams is presented as vice-president, president and ex-president, one of the latter being a splendid letter written by John Quincy Adams to his brother, Thomas, and franked by the father. Abraham Lincoln, whose signature is highly prized in any form, is represented by one of the greatest of all free frank items, the 1835 autograph letter signed and franked by Lincoln as postmaster of New Salem. This remarkable and historic letter is followed by two more Lincoln letters with free-franks, which, in turn, are followed by two more covers with Lincoln congressional and presidential franks. Finally, the Lincoln group closes with two covers addressed to him as president, one with an autograph endorsement.

Mr. Grunin’s taste for unusual postal usages is evident throughout the whole collection. John Tyler, whose franks are not uncommon, is represented in part by a wonderful group of four covers addressed to his brother-in-law, David Gardiner, at San Diego, California, one of which was returned with the rare San Diego post office marking in manuscript. Franklin Pierce’s free frank is not especially scarce, but in this collection we find it on a newspaper wrapper mailed in the Bahamas at the British Post Office, on which a British stamp was canceled. And, while U.S. Representative William H. Kelsey’s free frank is not significant by itself, its use with the local post stamp of the Washington, D.C., One Cent Dispatch is quite remarkable.

Those who savor history and covet the rare artifacts of America’s heritage will delight in the presence of two covers franked by California politicians and sent by Pony Express from Washington to their home state. Finally, from the dark, yet fascinating, chapter of our history, the Civil War, we find an excellent representation of the political and military leaders of that conflict.

The opportunity to create a reference to this collection is viewed by our firm as a responsibility to two collecting worlds: philately and historical Americana. In each catalogue entry we have tried to identify all features and facts that will be helpful to prospective buyers, as well as students of the subject.

This sale will be held in conjunction with our Autographs and Historical Documents sale on May 5th. We are pleased to bring together two offerings that will appeal to two groups who share many interests.

My dear Madam,

I received your favour of Oct. 1. with the offer of M. Barley, of which I have not yet made any life, but shall obtain it presently, as it was not necessary for you to take Notice of it. Your Expects of my Return are far beyond my power, and bring one to Debt. Had a Pleasure on the Success of my Endowments, the sufficiently expends me for the little trouble they gave me. They present my Respects to your new Son. I have written him a Letter, I have received last night, but cannot now write to him. I thank him for his Book, which I will speak of now. "...notwithstanding which Care was not taken to place a sufficient Number of Artillery & Cannon on ye Hill to defend it, At Noon the Enemy bro't in Two or Three Ships of the Line with which, the Lively & Batteries of Boston, they endeavored to Dislodge our Forces, soon after they landed about 3000 Regulars & a warm Engagement began, in which our Forces in the Intrenchment behaved like Heroes, but were not sufficiently provided with Artillery nor timely reinforced from Cambridge. They soon found it necessary to abandon an intrenchment on a Hill to the Eastward of Bunker's... our beloved Friend Doctor Warren was on Bunkers Hill when the Lines were forced & is no more, he was two Day before Chosen second Major General. Accepted on Friday & on Saturday dyed like a Hero...

The letter contains sharp criticism of the lack of strong military leadership and implores the members of Congress to remedy the situation. Shortly thereafter, on July 3, General George Washington took command of the American army at Cambridge and began the siege of Boston, which resulted in the British evacuation on March 17, 1776.

Fine and clean condition, separated along the fold with some adhesive tape still present (can be easily removed). A remarkable contemporary account of this legendary battle in the War for Independence. Ex Sang collection ......................... E. 10,000-15,000
Gentlemen

I send the letter, with which you were pleased to favor me on the 1st Instant, as a Critical Time for the Army posted at Cambridge. The Enemy proceeding. Orders were issued on Consequence of a consultation between the officers and committee of safety to take possession of Doctor Hill and Breckenhill in Charlestown. And the same, after receiving your note from Governor Hancock, that it would be a great expense of ammunition by ordnance and that therefore it was inexpedient to destroy them as soon as it was discovered by the Enemy on Saturday morning. A strong man was from the shore in Charlestown River & also about Batteries and Boston, which was acted against the letter by the American Forces until the Friday in the said week of January 15th, a man was lost in the morning. Our forces must be therefore in getting out while it was discovered that a War engagement must take place, notwithstanding which care was not taken to place a sufficient Number of Artillery & Cannon on Doctor Hill to defend it. At noon the Enemy was in two or three ships of Marline with about the lovely of Batteries at Boston, they advanced to Dispatch our Forces soon after they landed about 4000 Regulars & a warm Engagement began in which our forces in the Intrenchment behaved like Heroes, but were not sufficiently provided with Artillery nor timely reinforced from Cambridge. They soon found it necessary to abandon an Intrenchment near Hill to the Eastward of Sandwich

Use of this postal marking in September points to a 1776 year date.

EX-PRESIDENT JOHN ADAMS FRANKS AN AUTOGRAPH LETTER SIGNED BY JOHN QUINCY ADAMS TO THOMAS B. ADAMS, HIS SONS

The letter (which can be separated) is datelined Quincy, August 29, 1802, written and signed by John Quincy Adams (“John Q. Adams”) to his brother, Thomas, at Philadelphia. The former is enclosing a letter to Thomas that had been given to him by a Mr. Murray from The Hague, but which “had got into the corner of some trunk and lain forgotten untill about three weeks ago when he found and forwarded it to me - He sent me at the same a letter from Baron Bisfield to me, which was in the same predicament.” He injects a bit of humor: “it is already so ancient that a small addition to its age will not I presume be of much importance.”

Another interesting feature of this letter is the presence of an incomplete line of poetry, evidently in the hand of John Adams, which reads, “I will Praise my maker with my Breath and when my voice is lost in death...” (the pen ran dry with the word “death”).

Address panel with BOSTON MS AUG 30 cds and free handstamps. Clean and Extremely Fine. A fascinating letter and free frank, associating the father and son presidents and John Quincy’s sibling .............................................................. E. 6,000-8,000
Quincy 29. August 1802.

My dear Brother,

I have had some hesitation whether to keep the enclosed letter, under the expectation of delivering it in person or to forward it to you—However if it should reach Philadelphia too late, I suppose you will have such directions there as will bring it back in a few days more, and it is already so ancient that a small addition to its age will not I presume be of much importance.

I received it very recently from my friend Mr. Murray—he brought it with him from the Hague, but it had got into the corner of some trunk and lain forgotten till about three weeks ago when he found it and forwarded it to me. He put me at the same time a letter from Baron Biedfeldt to me, which was in the same predicament.

My wife and family are here to spend the week, but I myself return to Boston.

Yours faithfully, John Q. Adams.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS WRITES TO HIS BROTHER, THOMAS, DESCRIBING CONGRESSIONAL DEBATES OVER ACTS RELATING TO THE LOUISIANA PURCHASE

February 2, 1804, autograph letter begins "The inclosed Sheet of the Journals of the House..."; presumably complete although there is no closing salutation or signature. John Quincy bitterly describes the controversy created by the acts to raise revenue in Louisiana, commenting "The project as it came from the house was much more consistent, and the title of the act more wary, than it was by the Amendment of the Senate - It did not shew so flagrantly the violation of our Republican Principles; though in fact it carried that violation farther. I am passive in this case - having recorded my principles in the three Resolves so indignantly rejected almost a month ago. Adams mentions Breckenridge.

Jackson writes to Senator Samuel Smith, thanking Smith for his support of Jackson's politically motivated decision to veto the Maysville Road Bill.

Jackson was a staunch supporter of states' rights and limited federal government intervention in states' affairs. However, when the decision presented an opportunity to avenge a political foe, Jackson used his executive powers decisively. He vetoed twelve congressional bills during his term in office, more than all of his predecessors combined. In 1830 Jackson vetoed a bill appropriating funds for the construction of a road between Maysville and Lexington, Kentucky, the home state of his rival, Henry Clay. In this letter he thanks Senator Smith for support and invokes patriotism to defend his decision: "If the evils which it [his veto] anticipates are worth avoiding, as dangerous to the purity of the Government, and the desirability of our Union, I have the fullest confidence that their zeal in the cause of internal improvements will be so far moderated as, at best, to give me the credit of good intentions."

Dear Sir,

Mr. King called upon me on Tuesday last to inform me that he understands we have suspended the execution of the claim against Mrs. Toms or Mr. Hollingshed; but expects that at some future times the account against Eliza Wellington may be collected. He had not seen Mr. Stewart.

In the course of the conversation he admitted that he had received $700 for the Institution but from whom he did not recollect and he has learned to pay over that sum before the close of the session. I would suggest to you the propriety of sending one an order on him for that amount; as he will probably apply an authority from you before he will pay us the money.

Yours truly,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN POSTMASTER’S FREE FRANK

A RARE AND EARLY AUTOGRAPH LETTER SIGNED AND FRANKED AS POSTMASTER, COUNTY DEPUTY SURVEYOR AND REPRESENTATIVE IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF ILLINOIS

One page autograph letter signed “A. Lincoln” and datelined Vandalia, December 10, 1835. With address leaf (can be separated) addressed in Lincoln’s hand to T. J. Nance, New Salem Ill., bearing his postmaster’s free frank “Free. A. Lincoln P.M. New Salem Ills” and postmarked with VANDALIA ILLS. DEC 11 cds and FREE handstamp.

The letter details property records at the Auditor’s Office. It closes: “There is but little of interest doing in the Legislation as yet; owing mostly to the census returns from several counties not having been made.” Lincoln was permitted to use his free franking privilege for personal correspondence, provided that each letter weighed less than one-half ounce.

Bold text and signatures, few erosion spots around edges of address panel have been skilfully mended (none affecting text), otherwise Very Fine .......... E. 75,000-100,000
Vandalia, Dec. 10, 1835

Dear Sir,

In regard to the quarter half of the 36th in Coop's N. A. Ranger West the following is the only information that can be collected at the Auditor's Office. The 6.44 quarter of said section was sold in 1836 to Daniel Strong for the tax of 1835-36. Half of the other quarter was sold in 1837 to James Barrett for the tax of 1836-37. The other 60 acres have not been sold for taxes. The residence of neither of the purchasers is known at this office.

There is but little of interest doing in the Legislature as yet, owing mostly to the census returns from several counties not having been made.

Respectfully,

A. Lincoln

LINCOLN WRITES TO ADDISON IN THE WAKE OF HIS FAILURE TO SECURE AN APPOINTMENT AS COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE

Lincoln served only one term in Congress and returned to Springfield after the session closed on March 3, 1849. In 1848 he had pursued, without success, an appointment as Commissioner of the General Land Office, a position that was awarded to Justin Butterfield of Illinois. In this letter Lincoln has obliged his colleague, John Addison, by writing “On the other half of this sheet is what I hope may be both satisfactory and serviceable to you. If any thing I have written for any body should be turned to your disadvantage, I could hardly ever forgive myself for the carelessness of so writing... The “other half” Lincoln refers to is no longer attached. He goes on in a tone of evident disappointment: “Give my respects to my friends about you, particularly Lucas; and tell him I am truly glad he is at a good understanding with the new commissioner. If letters have come to the Dept. in my favor since the appointment, may they not be sent to me? I should like to see them. I have now about forty such, nineteen (I believe) of which are from M.C.’s.”

The last paragraph states, “I shall write Berdan to-day on the matter of which you speak concerning him. He is as much of a gentleman as lives.” The next lot is the letter to Berdan.

Clean and in excellent condition with dark manuscript on both sides, negligible mended tear at lower left well clear of text ........................................... E. 12,000-15,000
Springfield, Ills, July 22, 1849

Dear Judge,

On the other leaf of this sheet is what I hope may be both satisfactory and convenient to you. If any thing I have written for my society be known to your disadvantage, I can do nothing more than regret for the easement of so writing. Give my respects to my friends about you, particular Henry, and tell him how long glad he is at a good management with the new Commissary. If better have come to the Dye in my favor since the appearance of they not be an arm and I should like to see this. I have your about ten moneys (I believe) of which are from 170's. I shall write Judge Brown on the matter of which you speak concerning him. He is so much of a gentleman a man at first.

Yours very truly,

LINCOLN FULFILLS HIS PROMISE TO JOHN ADDISON BY WRITING TO JAMES BERDAN WITH AN OFFER TO HELP HIM PROCURE AN APPOINTMENT IN THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE, BUT CAUTIONS “WHETHER MY FRIENDSHIP WOULD HELP OR HURT YOU WITH MR. B.” (JUSTIN BUTTERFIELD, WHO WON THE COMMISSIONER’S APPOINTMENT OVER LINCOLN)

Lincoln’s political savvy is reflected in this intriguing letter, which reveals that Lincoln “...took the precaution to withdraw the letters filed in my favor for Comr. so that the very pretty [sic] one you wrote for me, can not rise in judgment against you, if, indeed, being seen, it would affect Mr. B’s feelings toward you.”

SENATOR LATHAM, THE QUINTESSENTIAL POLITICIAN, SENDS HIS FREE-FRANKED MAIL BY PONY EXPRESS VIA ST. JOSEPH, MISSOURI

Milton Scott Latham went to California in 1850 and rose to prominence as a district attorney and Democratic congressman. This autograph letter signed “Latham” is datelined Washington, May 22, 1860, and addressed to George Wallace, secretary to California’s Governor Downey. The content reveals Senator Latham’s political views and, in typical fashion, his cronyism and partisan maneuvering on Capitol Hill.

He writes: “I called in person to see Secy. Toucey of the Navy, about Coghlan, & urged him to make the order O’Farrell wanted, and I then wrote T. a strong letter to the same effect. I recd. last night the enclosed answer, which I send you. You will see that he says ‘the services of a Boatswain are not required’ at Mare Island & of course I can do no more. I am sorry for this, for I should have been much pleased to favor O’Farrell. Better luck next time. I have recd. all your letters & cannot tell you how gratified I am at your contents. They keep me posted as to all Cala. matters and are very refreshing. You need not fear my Clerk, George, for he does not see your letters, and if he did, it would make no difference, for he is very reliable. You know I generally know my confidential friends, your own experience should satisfy you of this. Gordon has no connection with Cala. & although his brother, Geroge, is with Tom Williams, he is too honorable & too much attached to me to betray my friendship. . . The great Democratic party is split forever, I fear. Douglas has made the greatest speech of his life last week, but it has only embittered his enemies the more. I think the Richmond Convention will nominate Lane, and the Baltimore will nominate Douglas & Stephens. We will then have a Northern & Southern Democratic Party & who then can say where it will end. What a pity inasmuch as it all comes from an abstraction about the ‘almighty nigger’ . . . .”

The envelope is addressed and endorsed “Per Pony Express” in Latham’s hand. The PONY EXPRESS ST JOSEPH/MAY 27 handstamp is perfectly struck with the famous running pony design showing remarkable detail. The blue “Free” indicates that the $5.00 Pony Express fee was waived in favor of Senator Latham, whose political efforts on behalf of the company were enthusiastic. This Pony Express trip left from St. Joseph on May 27, 1860. A total of ten free-franked Pony Express covers are recorded in Nathan, six of which were signed by Senator Latham (on the first he paid the $5.00 fee; the subsequent ones were carried free). A mate to this cover, dated at St. Joseph on May 13, is illustrated in the Nathan book (p.10). Another similar cover, dated June 3, is listed in the Nathan census. Both the letter and envelope are in Extremely Fine condition. Ex Knapp, Hale and Hertz, and featured on the cover of our catalogue for the Hale collection (Sale 171, April 29, 1954). One of the most outstanding Western express covers extant. E. 75,000-100,000

SENATOR GWIN FRANKS A COVER SENT BY PONY EXPRESS VIA ST. JOSEPH, MISSOURI

Senator Gwin, who received his medical degree from Transylvania University in 1828, was a colorful, influential and controversial figure in California politics. In 1840 he was elected to Congress and aligned himself with the Calhoun school. He left Washington for California in 1849, following the prediction of John C. Calhoun that San Francisco would become New York's great rival. Dr. Gwin and Fremont became senators, and, influenced by Senator Gwin's tireless efforts, the U.S. government authorized the establishment of the U.S. Mint in California, the survey of the Pacific coast, a navy-yard, and the commencement of steamship service between San Francisco, China, and Japan, via the Hawaiian Islands. At the beginning of the Civil War, former Senator Gwin was arrested on accusation of disloyalty and held prisoner until 1863. After his release from prison, he traveled to France and became involved in a scheme to colonize Sonora with southerners, under the authority of Napoleon and Emperor Maximilian. The plan failed without the support of Mexico's military, and Dr. Gwin finally returned to California, where he continued to participate in political affairs.

The envelope is endorsed "By Pony Express" in Senator Gwin's hand. The PONY EXPRESS/ST. JOSEPH/DEC 13 Running Pony oval handstamp is boldly struck and shows evidence of wear from extensive use. At left is a light pencil note "Paid J.T.C.", which seems to indicate that the Pony Express charge was paid. The backflap is somewhat torn from opening, and a small piece is missing from the top edge above the handstamp (small part of the oval rim pencilled in). The cover is otherwise Very Fine and clean.

Dear Sir,

In regard to the South half of Sec. 36, in Township 7 North, Range 1 West the following is the only information that can be collected at the Auditor's Office: The 4th quarter of said section was sold in 1833 to Daniel W. Fowlkes for the tax of 1832-33. Half of the other quarter was sold in 1837 to John Bartlett for the tax of 1836. The other 60 acres have not been sold for taxes. The residence of neither of the purchasers is known at this office.

There is but little of interest doing in the Legislature as yet, owing mostly to the Census returns from several counties not having been made.

Respectfully,

A. Lincoln
